

Intentional and Prophetic

A voice cries out: 'In the wilderness prepare the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert a highway for our God. Every valley shall be lifted up, and every mountain and hill be made low; the uneven ground shall become level, and the rough places a plain. Then the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all people shall see it together, for the mouth of the Lord has spoken.' Isaiah 40:3-5

Activity can easily become the distraction of being busy. Using wisdom and discernment, we can live our lives more intentionally – getting the balance right; living in the present moment rather than in the unchangeable past or an unknown future. Living in this way is to be prophetic – announcing the new perspective of the gospel on what it means to be human. Jesus is an example of someone who lived his life intentionally and prophetically.

Quote and passage from Adrianna Wroblewska Year 13

As a student here at St Joseph's for the past 7 years, currently in year 13, being intentional and prophetic in school life as well as everyday life has helped me grow as a person; learning new things and keeping them with me for when I will need them later on in life. Simply but just putting my hand up and asking questions in class is encouraged by my teachers such as 'how does interests rates related to inflation' allows me to be intentional and prophetic in my own learning. Throughout St Joseph's being intentional and prophetic helps in progressing a lot in your lessons and helps to clear up any problem or uncertainty you have within a topic. Once you understand, progress you are able to make can be huge and rewarding.
